Brass Phantoms

About

Brass Phantoms are a five-piece Post-Indie Rock band from Dublin. The band consists of Ryan Cadden (vocals & bass), Greg Whelan (guitar & backing vocals), James Gieringty (guitar), Adam McCabe (drums & backing vocals), and new addition, Colleen Heavey (keys & backing vocals). The group is set to release new music and are excited to return to the live scene.

In 2017 Brass Phantoms released their single Wading Up. The track garnered widespread display across Irish Radio on the likes of RTE 2FM, NPHF, SPIN 102.6, Today FM, and Radio Nova, as well as prestigious international features on the likes of BBC Radio 6 with Steve Lamacz and Spotify-curated playlists. Eager to keep this momentum in motion, the band's following singles Indigo and Disciples acquired esteemed press coverage from the likes of Clash Magazine, The Irish Times, Hot Press and Juice, as well as the group seeing themselves listed as 'Artist of the Week' on The Metro in the UK.
